

CONTACT:

Thom Dukesherer
Venture Products National Sales Manager
888.253.7360 x119
t-dukesherer@procosound.com

Pro Co Sound now shipping 32 Channel Personal Monitor Mixing!

Kalamazoo, MI – Pro Co Sound has announced the integration of 32 channels of personal monitor mixing into their popular Momentum line of digital products.

Last year Pro Co released Momentum and it has quickly become an industry leader in digital audio transmission due to its ability to transmit 256 channels of audio on a single CAT6 cable. In addition, the Momentum system incorporates Personal Monitor Mixing providing control of excess stage volumes and degraded FOH sound due to these volume issues.

Craig Sibley, Pro Co's House of Worship Market Manager and well known expert in Personal Monitoring technologies states; "It's been my experience that 16 channels were simply not adequate for this application in many churches and live sound venues. Expanding the system's ability to monitor 32 channels with an easy to use control surface will provide the flexibility and control that many users have expressed they require. I think it's awesome that Pro Co is the first company in the industry to make this important leap!"

The David Crowder Band (popular Christian Recording Artists) recently returned from a successful tour using the Momentum Digital snake and In Ear Monitoring solutions. Bwack, the band's drummer states; "Day in and day out, we have a consistent mix in our monitors. Momentum having 32 channels has made a world of difference!"

32 channel mo8me with the "Tweak" Controller

Pro Co will be demonstrating this feature at WFX, booth #1611

For more information, to research Momentum spec sheets, or view online video, simply visit www.procomomentum.com. For sales and representative information call Thom Dukesherer directly at 888-253-7360 ext. 119.